

ACQUAH OSEI JOEL

FullStack Develeoper

Summary:

I am a skilled Backend developer with in-depth knowledge of building backend systems and APIs to support B2B and B2C applications. I am writing highly Readable, Testable, and maintainable Code using the SOLID principle to deliver quality products at any scale. Solid knowledge of data structure and algorithms always helped me to build software systems from scratch to deploy on production with the help of my experience on various projects in the past. My knowledge and expertise can be an asset to any team and organization.
